

From Bach to Miles Davis, Jay-Z

Younger, I would race formula cars and travel all over the world. It was a photographing gig in Napa Valley that jump-started my career.

Launching OBJEKT International, and now its sidekick OBJEKT Int Digital, and making it into the worldwide success it has become, are the epitome of my career and my greatest contributions to the world of design.

Beautiful women are inspiring, not in a sexist way... Like muses. My most-admired late talents Karl Lagerfeld and Rembrandt would agree!

My current state of mind is one brought by of a work overdose in which I find myself combining as many ideas as possible in a whole new approach.

Reality taught me to strive for the best quality at all times, that mistakes are there to be learned from and that you shouldn't drink too much!

I've lived so much abroad, I've become a citizen of the world ... falling constantly in love with new places, from Hollywood, to Bangkok.

Tonight's menu? A simple salad with fresh sea fishes. Guests are arriving! Leave way for Karl Lagerfeld, Miles Davis and Leonard Bernstein. Jealous souls can wait at the door!
